

www.eXaminer.com

April 3, 2009

Beat the mid-week blues at Havana Central!

Right around Wednesday afternoon, people start to lose momentum. Its smack dab in the middle of the work week, and Friday Happy Hour seems light years away. But not at Havana Central in Times Square! This hotspot near the intersection of 46th Street and one of the world's biggest tourist attractions offers classic Cuban fare and outstanding cocktails, known in particular for their delicious Mojitos using fresh lemon juice and mint leaves. And on Wednesday nights, from 4-7 p.m., Havana Central offers the Partida Margarita for $12. Each margarita comes with a free sample of Havana Central Paella, in seafood, meat or vegetarian varieties. The Partida Margarita differs from a traditional one in that your basic margarita is comprised of tequila, triple sec and sour mix, while the Partida Margarita uses Partida Tequila, 100% Organic Agave Nectar and fresh squeezed lime juice. A healthy alternative to a bar standard just in time for Spring!

Partida Margarita

1 ½ oz Partida Tequila (Blanco, Reposado or Anejo)
1 oz Fresh squeezed lime juice
¾ oz Partida 100% Organic Agave Nectar
¾ oz Water

Shake all ingredients with ice in a shaker. Strain over fresh ice into a cocktail glass or rocks glass. No garnish, no salt.

For more info: <http://www.havanacentral.com/mambo/>
<http://www.partidamargarita.com/>

HAVANACENTRAL.COM